PETITION IS GRANTED BY THETA SIGMA PHI

National Chapter of Women's Journalistic Fraternity To Be Installed at Kentucky

RIGID REQUIREMENTS

Martha Buckman has received a telegram from the National Convention of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalistic fraternity for women, which met recently, announcing that the petition of the eight young women of the University of Kentucky who applied in the name of Phi Sigma, local fraternity, for a chapter of the national, was granted along with similar applications from Columbia University, New York City, and Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois. A representative of the fraternity is expected to come to Lexington about May 18 to formally install the chapter at the University.

Theta Sigma Phi was founded in 1909 at the University of Washington and has grown rapidly during the last few years, having chapters in many of the large universities, such as Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio State and Oregon.

The local Phi Sigma was established at the University of Kentucky during the winter by several girls of the junior and senior classes, who are making journalism either their major or minor study, and who are interested in bringing together those taking an active part in the work of that department. Miss McLaughlin was instrumental in forming the organization and she has rendered invaluable aid in actually bringing the fraternity into being.

The young women who made application for a chapter of Theta Sigma Phi are: Martha Buckman, junior managing editor of the Kernel for next year; Louise Will, senior managing editor of the Kernel this year; Elizabeth Card, member of the Kernel staff; Elizabeth Marshall, senior member of the Kernel staff; Adele Slade, Junior, co-ed editor of Kernel and editor-in-chief of the 1921 Kentuckian; Margaret McClure, senior editor of the State Press Bulletin and Exchange Editor of the Kernel, Bell, junior editor of the State Press Bulletin for next year, and member of the Kernel staff; Marguerite McLaughlin, instructor in journalism.

To be eligible for membership in the fraternity one must be an upper classman; must be on a student publication; must have a standing of 1.9 according to the point system; must be taking work in the Department of Journalism with no failure or conditions in such work.

Stagecrafters Give Little Theatre Play

The Stagecrafters of Transylvania will present a program of three one-act plays at the Little Theatre, Monday evening, May 17, at 8 o'clock. The plays are "Maker of Dreams," by Alfred Sutro, "Embers," by George Middleton, and a comedy farce called "Room 38."

KENTUCKY ENGINEERS MEET WITH N. Y. CLUB

McVey and Anderson Speak at Long-to-be Remembered Occasion

The seventeenth annual dinner-dance of the New York Club of the University of Kentucky was held on Saturday evening, May 1, at McAlpin Hotel, New York City. Fifty-two women and men from Kentucky were present.

Dinner was served at 8 o'clock, the diners dancing between courses. In writing of the dinner-dance, Mr. J. E. Bolling, who was present, says:

"After dinner M. S. Smith, president of the club, introduced Doctor McVey, who spoke for about half an hour on the subject, 'Increased Monetary Appropriations for Educational Purposes,' outlining the necessity of this in view of the greatly increased demand for trained men in all walks of life.

"Dean Anderson followed. Doctor McVey and spoke for about twenty minutes. In his usual virile vein Dean Anderson spoke on timely topics, included a sightseeing tour of the University grounds, which the writer had reason to believe he flched from the speech of a certain senior member of the College of Engineering who made such a speech at the Chicago banquet, and closed his remarks by paying a graceful tribute to the social developments at the University owing to the activities of Mrs. McVey, and by according to Doctor McVey the full measure of credit for his work in the development of the University as an institution of learning."

"Following Dean Anderson, W. H. Grady, trustee of the University, made a short speech in which he expressed his pleasure and honor at being present and left the real speech-making to the hardened sinners of that profession."

"Mr. J. I. Lyle, also a trustee of the University, followed with a brief history of the New York Club, recalling many of the folk and incidents which surrounded the foundation of the club in 1902. Mr. Lyle also added a word about the present and future needs of the University and spoke of the carefully-considered campus layout, which had been perfected to serve as an intelligible guide to future expansion.

O. L. REED ADDRESSES STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

George R. Larry, of Red Cross, Also Speaks, Urging Observation of Health Rules

"If you can put thinking into action, you will get the highest satisfaction of life. The only way in which a human being can be educated is by some form of human activity. At the adolescent period the teacher is working with the most malleable stuff that can be worked, thus teaching should be considered as a spiritual art," said O. L. Reed, Superintendent of Louisville schools, in his inspiring talk in chapel Tuesday, on "High School Teaching as a Life Work."

He also said: "The great aims of education are, first, the physical education, education for home life, and the moral and religious education. We all learn sooner or later that money is only worth what you can exchange for it in terms of satisfaction." In speaking further of the high school education, he said that the high school has an unique individuality in that it is a survival of the old classical academy.

Superintendent Reed ended his talk by paying tribute to the classical training given in the high schools, and making a plea that more University students take up teaching as a life work, calling it the noblest profession in the world.

Mr. George R. Larry, University of Wisconsin, and of the American Red Cross, closed the chapel exercises by making a short talk, saying that "3,000,000 people in the United States are continuously and seriously ill. Two-thirds of the illness is unnecessary, and could be prevented if the boys and girls were educated to care for their bodies and to obey the laws of health and hygiene. He closed by asking that we give our support to the Red Cross, which is now doing its greatest work, in the time of peace, by teaching health and hygiene in the schools, and in various kinds of social work.

WEATHERFORD WILL TALK SUNDAY NIGHT

Dr. W. D. Weatherford, president of the Y. M. C. A. College at Nashville will speak at the joint Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. meeting at Patterson Hall Sunday night.

Doctor Weatherford was the founder of Blue Ridge and is an authority on the Negro question in the South. He is a speaker of note and the University is especially fortunate in securing him to fill this engagement. Every wide-awake college student interested in current problems should hear him.

HIGHLANDS WINS HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Fort Thomas Boys Easy Victors in State Interscholastic Contest

The team from Highlands High School, Fort Thomas, easily won the Kentucky Interscholastic track meet held on Stoll Field last Saturday, May 8. Highlands piled up a total of 57 points to their credit; Louisville Boys' High came second with a score of 22 points. Anderson County High was third with 15 points.

Mountjoy, of Anderson County High, was the high point man of the contest. He entered three events and took three first places. Stegeman, of Highlands, was second with 13 points, and Funkhouser, of Providence High, was third with 10 tallies to his credit.

The winners of the tournament were presented with the trophies immediately after the meet in the Y. M. C. A. rooms of the University. Doctor McVey made the presentations. Gold medals were given to winners of first places, silver ones for second and bronze ones for third. A silver loving cup went to the winning team and one was also given to the high point man of the meet. In addition to this the Sigma Nu fraternity gave a specially designed loving cup to the winning team.

Three high school records were broken in the meet, namely: Pole vault, Mountjoy, 10.6; broad jump, Mountjoy, 19.9; (former record, 19.6, held by Locke, of Louisville); javelin, Chinn, 140.6, (first year throw); discus, Scott, 101.7, (former record, 95 feet, held by Hawkins, of Anderson County High).

Funkhouser ran the 220 yards in 23.23 seconds, coming within a fifth of a second of Grabfelder's record of 23.15 seconds.

The various teams were the guests of the different fraternities of the University during their short stay in this city. The meet was one of the most successful ever held here and a record crowd was in attendance.

The officials were T. J. Beam, manager; R. W. Owens, referee and starter; Parks Boone, James Wilhelm and W. D. Thompson, clerks of course; E. A. Bureau, George Whiting and Julius Wolf, timers; W. D. Funkhouser, W. L. Summers and John J.

BIG FROLIC ON PATT HALL LAWN COMING

Student Government Association To Give Mardi Gras Next Friday Evening

BENEFIT OF REC. HALL

Have you ever been to a Mardi Gras in Kentucky on a Friday night in May? Most likely you have not, as there has probably never been one. But you are going to have the rare opportunity of attending such a celebration at Patterson Hall Friday evening, May 21, for the girls of the Student Government Association of the University are going to give a unique Mardi Gras which will rival even the most elaborate Mardi Gras which have brought fame to New Orleans.

A champion swimming match, a fortune teller, a fish pond, a Japanese tea garden where demure Japanese maidens will serve tea and sandwiches, booths where anything which fancy dictates can be purchased, and various side shows, including everything from the smallest midget in the world to a show "for men only" will be features of the evening's entertainment.

In addition to these attractions, the program committee of the carnival has provided an excellent program to be given on the platform to be erected in the center of the large circle in the Patterson Hall yard. This program will feature a minstrel show, a mock council meeting of the Student Government Association in which girls from the audience will be "called up" before the council, and "The Maker of Dreams," a skit which will be presented by some of the best Stroller talent of the University.

The entire front yard of Patterson Hall will be converted into a veritable fairyland, lighted with Japanese lanterns. Bright and attractive costumes, gaily decorated booths, harnes, and confetti will add to the festive spirit of the occasion.

The merry-making in the Patterson Hall yard will continue from 8 until 10 o'clock. Then, at 10 o'clock will come the grand climax of the entertainment of the evening. The doors of the Recreation Hall will be thrown open and the jazz will start, and dancing will be enjoyed until the cock strikes twelve.

The proceeds of the Mardi Gras will be used to refurbish the parlors at Patterson Hall. So, boys, one and all, come with a warm heart and a full purse, prepared to spend freely, and you will be rewarded next year by having attractive parlors, artistically furnished with comfortable furniture and pretty floor lamps, in which to wait for your girls. Adele Slade is general chairman of the Mardi Gras. Virginia Griffith and Fannie Heller are assistant chairmen.

INCREASE IN COMMUNITY SPIRIT SHOWN IN PLAYS

Little Theatre Program Aply Presented By the Strollers, Faculty and Townfolk

"The Workhouse Ward," "The Open Door," and "Suppressed Desires," given in the Little Theatre on last Monday night displayed both an increase in community spirit and in the ability of the presentation of the drama.

"The Workhouse Ward," by Lady Gregory, alive with humor and human interest, was successfully interpreted by J. C. Noe, head of the Department of Education and Dr. C. B. Cornell, Professor of Psychology of the University. Mrs. Pauline Wherry, of the Red Cross Division, should also receive her share of praise in the role of the country woman. Indeed it would be difficult to determine the star in this production.

Mary Elizabeth Downing, leading lady in the Stroller play, and Grover Creech who also had a prominent part, were the only characters in Alfred Sutra's drama, "The Open Door." The eternal triangle was the only theme, but the ability and beauty of Miss Downing, and the attractive tones of her voice in every way desirable for the stage, together with the polish of Creech's acting, gained by several years' experiences as a Stroller, made it very enjoyable to all. "Suppressed Desires," G. C. Cook and Susan Glaspell, was different from anything given at yet in the playhouse. As a burlesque on the theories of psycho-analysis it was an overwhelming success and judging by the applause which followed, it was very popular.

Samuel B. Walton, as Stephen Brewster, showed remarkable talent in his humorous by-plays and expressions. Both Isabel Wolfe Gemenway, as the wife, and Gladys Goltans' chum, in the role of Mabel, displayed more than novice ability. All the characters are well known Lexington folk.

Professor Carl Lampert led the community singing between the plays and gave a few selections on his violin, and demonstrated the difference between Chinese scales and ours.

The writer is wondering if all the members of the feathered tribe of animals, including the stuffed ones too, who were forced to "turn their faces to the wall" and keep them there ever since the Governor's race in Kentucky was run last fall, won't have opportunity to turn 'round' and "make a joyful noise" after the next Presidential election.

KENTUCKY ENGINEERS MEET WITH NEW YORK CLUB.

"During the evening we discovered that the banquet in the next room was being held by the class of 1920, New York University, and at Doctor McVey's suggestion a committee was appointed to draw up our greetings and extend them to the class of 1920. Such greetings were prepared and delivered. A short time later the class of 1920 returned their greetings to us, expressing an unusually sincere and well-put compliment to Doctor McVey, having used some of his text books in their work at the University."

The following incomplete list of those present was obtained: S. N. Courtney, J. E. Bolling, F. Paul Anderson, Jr.; E. T. Lyle, Boston; L. L. Lewis; Carlyle Jefferson; Howard Ingels; Derrill W. Hart; Henry Hamilton; Jake H. Gaiser; J. Ray Duncan; Homer L. Pence; M. E. Pendleton; Lieutenant A. C. Norman; Lynn Nones; E. C. McDowell, Hamilton, Canada; Henry Marsh, Wilmington, Delaware; J. I. HOOF AND HORN CLUB
ORGANIED BY AG. MEN

The Hoof and Horn Club is a new organization among the agricultural students of the University. Such other universities as Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and Michigan have "Hoof and Horn" and it is a live wire in those institutions. It is expected that this club will be responsible for a great deal of good resulting for both the Department of Animal Husbandry and the University for the motto is "More and Better Livestock." Officers are, president, Garnett McKinney, Winchester; vice-president, Harry Farmer, Stanford; secretary-treasurer, R. H. Ford, Winchester.

The club will present to the students of the University and the public its initial program Saturday afternoon when a livestock show will be given in the Judging Pavilion, located on the Experiment Station Farm, for the Berea students who will be visiting the University then.

A number of animals of every kind of livestock owned by the University will be used in the show. The animals will be brought in, judged, and the reasons given for placing them within twenty minutes' times. The judging will be done by the members of the club.

ANIMADVERSIONS OF THE CYNIC

Far be it from such a highly intellectual and well-demanded publication as the Kernel to descend to the level of Hortensia Knowall, author of "How To Be Proper On All Occasions", but since the subject has been broached in these columns it may well be finished here.

Two weeks ago, the Kernel took editorial notice of the maxim, "Don't let your studies interfere with your education" and commended a certain application of it to student life. But every thing has two sides, even this and the up-to-date dollar. What we would now bring to your attention is the other side of this proposition.

Going to school is like trying to ride three horses at once; only a few do it successfully and most of us poor mortals had better not try. There is Horse No. 1, Studies, by Hard Work out of Thought. He is a long-winded brute, not good to look at and therefore despised by some. He is likely to take the bit in his mouth and run away if not carefully watched. If you are trying to ride him, be on the job early and late and don't look at the pretty green grass on the left or the gay crowds on the right. Though this horse is headstrong, when carefully handled he will take you under the wire with a safe lead over the field.

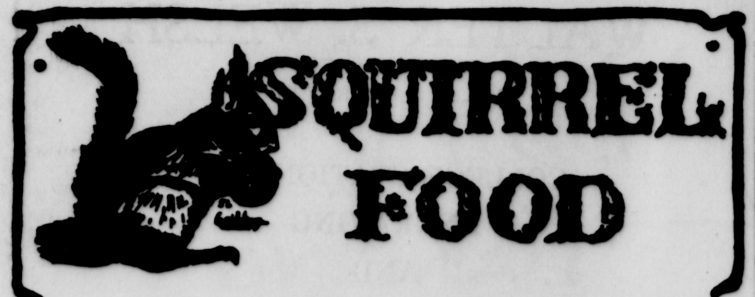

Horse No. 2 is Activities, by Leadership out of Organization. His temper suits his name. Like all colts he is restive and seditious and likely to give his rider a disastrous fall, especially if ridden too hard. Correctly paced, he is the very best of mounts but any gait faster than a walk excites him and is likely to make him break away from the race and run the wrong way of the track.

But Horse No. 3 is the most dangerous of all. He is Society, by Good Times out of Youth. His greatest fault is a tendency to jump the fence, and only the strongest and most skillful rider should try to mount him. Many who have attempted to do so have been thrown before they were halfway around the track. Fatalities are especially great among young and inexperienced jockeys, who are just entering the race. If one is in this class one should be very cautious and be ready to pull up at the first sign of danger. When one falls, one falls hard.

"Falling in love" is, oh, so easy. Love is a natural instinct of mutual association aroused by propinquity to persons of opposite sex. Its ultimate end, under our present system of civilization, is marriage and the establishing of a home. Until the aspirants are ready for this, they should not take the thing too seriously. If they do, they make themselves miserable, irritating to their teachers, and ridiculous to their fellow-students.

What emotional and social experience one gets out of these attacks of puppy-love, will profit the fiction just as do several lessons of Greek or Calculus, but since all three are only parts of an education, why should the student allow one to get him down while he treats the other two lightly?

As a parting and final word on the subject, let us say this: Don't "fall" for anybody; it hurts when one hits the ground. Don't let anyone "get you down" if you would hold your friends. The demonstration either wearies or amuses them. They feel vastly superior. Keep a clear head; ride your three horses but don't stick to any one too closely; hold the reins and drive.

PRE-MEDS ADDRESSED BY DOCTOR HOLLOWAY

Dr. Thomas C. Holloway addressed the Pre-Medical Club Monday night in the Science building. The subject of Doctor Holloway's talk was the importance of the decision to study medicine. He said that in the legitimate practice of medicine there are not many gradations. You must be proficient to be worth anything as a physician, and that means years of study and expense spent in preparation.

After the talk refreshments were served and the members enjoyed a social time. This was the last meeting of the year, and the last of a series of addresses given by notable local and visiting doctors.

HOME EC. STUDENTS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The girls of the Practise House entertained from 4 to 6 o'clock last Thursday in honor of the faculty and friends of the Department of Home Economics. The list of those invited included 191 names.

The house was beautifully decorated with rose geraneums and other flowering plants which, because of the artistic arrangement tastefully blended with the rose color scheme of the dining room.

Those who received the guests were Miss Sweeney, head of the department; Mrs. Thomas Cooper, and Misses Eichelberger, Coffin and Cornell of the faculty. The girls responsible for the success of the event are Mary Turner, Bertha Depew, Dorothy Middleton and Louise Mayer.

DR. GILLESPIE SPEAKS AT JOINT "Y" MEETING

Pastor of Maxwell Presbyterian Church Addresses Association Sunday Night.

"We are not creatures of circumstance, but we create circumstances and out of that which we create comes life," said Dr. R. T. Gillespie, pastor of the Maxwell Presbyterian Church, in his talk to the members of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. at their joint meeting Sunday night.

"The world has gone wild over possessing," he continued. "This is the day when the danger of the 'ego,' the overmastering spirit of self, is apt to sweep us out into an irresistible current. Do we, today, take God and our fellowman into our counsel, or do we rather reason with ourselves alone? The man who disposes of his life and his labor without taking God into consideration is following a false conception of life through which he will fall into inevitable and fatal error. Covetousness and materialism are the great, consuming evils of today and the Bible warns us against them."

The meeting was led by Edna Snapp. A social hour followed the regular exercises at which refreshments were served.

THE LIGHT THAT LIES

'Tis often said of a woman's eyes, There lies a light that lies and lies, And says I love when it means despise.

But Milton loves! and says he spies Good things to eat like chocolate pies. Swimming in seas of "Downing" eyes Which seems to coax and jeopardize; 'Cause once you're gone there's no franchise

From the wonderful light that lies and lies,

And has the power to mesmerize, And lead to the church where freedom dies to man.

Freshman Engineers Entertain Comrades

Professor W. E. Freeman, Who is Leaving Kentucky, Highly Praised at Student Smoker.

The Freshman Engineering Society entertained the students and faculty of the College of Engineering with a smoker. The purpose of the meeting was to promote a closer spirit of co-operation among the different classes and the faculty in the College of Engineering.

Interesting talks were made by the following men: Dean Anderson, Professor Anderson, Mr. Dicker, and Mr. Singer. U. V. Garred told of the Senior inspection trip. Fred Luker, president, represented the Junior class. In his talk he praised Professor W. E. Freeman very highly and told of the loss the College of Engineering would suffer when Professor Freeman left.

Bradshaw, as representative of the Sophomore class, made a short talk. H. D. Brallsford rendered a few selections on the banjo. Music was furnished between the speeches by a jazz trio. Sandwiches and coffee were served after the speeches.

Kelley Combs who was in the University during 1915-16 was around the first of the week meeting old friends. At present he is firing on one of the railroads. While in college he was one of the "dorm rats" of the Old Dorm.

MIAMI COMMENDS
KENTUCKY ATHLETICS

Praise for the sportsmanship of the University of Kentucky athletes is contained in a letter from Alfred Brodbeck, graduate athletic manager at Miami University, which was received Saturday by Athletic Director S. A. Boles. Brodbeck was here with the Miami track team, which defeated the Wildcats. His letter says in part:

"I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the very cordial treatment given myself and the team on our recent visit to Lexington. It is a pleasure to meet real sportsmen and there are many colleges in the Ohio conference that can profit by a visit to Lexington."

WILDCATS VICTORIOUS IN THREE NORTHERN GAMES

Miami, Rose Polytecnic and Depauw Fall Before Kentucky Warriors

The University of Kentucky Wildcats returned Wednesday night victors in three out of five games they played while on their northern trip. The Kentucky boys played excellent ball, but errors and bad fielding accounted for their only two defeats.

Leaving Thursday morning the Wildcats met Cincinnati on Carson Field and received their second defeat of the season by a score of 6 to 2. The victory for the Cincinnati nine makes the series stand paired at one game each, as the Wildcats took the first game when the two teams crossed bats at Lexington. "Bud" Slomer occupied the mound for the Blue Grass lads.

The next team the Wildcats encountered was at Oxford, Ohio, where Kentucky defeated Miami University by a score of 4 to 0. Grubbs, one of Kentucky's star pitchers, held the Miami boys to two lone hits, while the Wildcats touched up Kramer for seven bingles. Errors were common on both teams, Miami registering five and Kentucky three.

At Greencastle, Ind., Kentucky met and defeated DePauw by a score of 14 to 6. Megular pitched for Kentucky and was hard hit, but consistent hitting kept the Wildcats several runs ahead. The Kentuckians found Glascock and Julian, the DePauw hurlers, for fifteen hits. DePauw made five errors.

Monday Kentucky ran away with the game against Rose Polytecnic, scoring fourteen runs on eleven hits, while the Rose Poly nine could only swat the pill for three hits and a two-run total. "Lefty" Cooper pitched for the Wildcats and held the Hoosier team scoreless until the ninth inning. Kentucky scored three times in the first inning and came back with six tallies in the third. Kentucky did not play the last half of the ninth so there is no telling what the score might have been.

Poor fielding and ten errors accounted for the Wildcats' defeat at the hands of the University of Indiana in the last game of their northern invasion. The score was 14 to 5. Grubbs started off in good form and held the Indiana men scoreless for two innings but weakened in the third and fourth and let six run across the home plate. Megular and Slomer attempted to stem the tide of defeat, but they could not check the bad breaks that ran against the team.

TRACK MEN LEAVE FOR S. I. A. A. MEET

Coach Buchheit, accompanied by five men of the Kentucky track team, left Wednesday night for Atlanta, Georgia, where Kentucky will be represented in the S. I. A. A. track meet. Members of the team making the trip are: Estes Snider, Warren Clare, Jim Wilhelm, Neal Knight and David Thornton.

Kentucky men will be entered in the following events: mile, high jump, half mile, hurdles, quarter mile, and relay.

GIRLS' OPEN TENNIS TOURNAMENT HERE

Winners Announced of First Four Singles.

The girls' tennis tournament opened with four single matches, the winners of which were Florine Starr, Lucy Holt, Lucille Glasgow, and Anna Russell Moore.

A large crowd was out to watch the sets, and showed that tennis tournaments would be very popular in the university. A silver loving cup has been offered to the winner of the tournament, and keen rivalry is shown among the various court sharks. Four matches will be played each afternoon until the entire list of girls have had their chance to swing their racket towards winning the coveted cup. Following is the line-up of the matches for Wednesday, together with the scores:

Florine Starr—Miriam Kincheloe, 6-love.

Lucy Holt—Sue Boardman, 6-3.

Lucille Glasgow—Lula Blakey, 7-5.

Anna R. Moore, Bernice Young, 6-2.

The most interesting match was that one played between Lula Blakey and Lucille Glasgow. Both girls seemed evenly matched, and snappy serving with as quick returns, was displayed.

The entire list of the girls who will compete in the tournament appears below:

COLLEGE PROFESSOR SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Dean Brown Discusses Value of College Education.

"The physical combat of war is over, but we are now at the critical point; we do not have the same moral state that we had when we entered the war. The laboring class saw during the war that it was an indispensable factor in the nation, and after the war they, the laboring people are restless and demanding better living conditions. The Germany of Bach, of Schiller, of Beethoven, of Goethe, that we found in 1914 has changed to the Germany of Nietzsche", said Dean Brown, of Harvard, in a recent chapel address to the students of the University of Kentucky.

Dean Brown continued: "Life in a college is not like that outside its gates. Horace Greeley had contempt for the college man. Franklin, Lincoln, Washington, and other prominent Americans were without a college education. Colleges are the means by which we can improve ourselves, and better our opportunities for special service. College people must not think themselves above the great mass of people. We could have a hard time to compete with the man who is trained by the great minds of the age were we not college graduates."

BEARS SIXTH VICTIM OF THE WILDCAT TEAM

Easy Game For U. K. Monday Afternoon

The Wildcats walked away with their sixth straight victory when they defeated the University of Cincinnati by a score of five to two. Despite the fact that the game was slow and the playing of both teams was ragged and poor, several spectacular plays won the applause of fans.

Kentucky started off with vim and sent one man across the pan in the first inning. In the fourth, Seltz, the big right-hander for the Bears, went wild and Kentucky ran in two scores. Not until the eighth inning did Cincinnati have a real chance to score, and then the two tallies came more as a gift than anything else, when several Wildcat errors together with two hits gave them two runs.

Although Slomer pitched a good game, it appeared as if he was weakening fast toward the last. He was in several tight holes but pulled out without severe damage.

Seltz battled hard for a victory, but was defeated by errors and poor playing. His wild throws gave the Wildcats two runs. The box score:

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS
AT MRS. COOPER'S HOMEMrs. Tigert Accepts Gavel and Assumes Duties of President

The Woman's Club of the University of Kentucky held the last meeting for the year Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas P. Cooper, with Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Edwin Stanton Good and Mrs. Daniel J. Healy acting as hostesses.

Mrs. Paul P. Boyd presided and delegates and alternates were elected to represent the club at the State Federation to be held at Madisonville, Kentucky, May 25. Mrs. Boyd, Miss Mary E. Sweeney, Dean Josephine Simrall and Mrs. W. T. Lafferty were appointed as delegates. Mrs. Frank L. McVey and Mrs. Linwood Brown are the alternates.

Mrs. Boyd presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. John T. Tigert. The other new officers installed were: Mrs. Paul P. Boyd, vice president; Mrs. Edward Stanton Good, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Cooper, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. James Holmes Martin, treasurer.

Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Healy gave a violincello and violin duet for which Mrs. Stanton played the piano accompaniment. Mrs. Cooper gave a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Allen Sidney Johnson on the piano.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Showing How a Man Leaveth College, and the Problems Life Presenteth To Him Immediately Thereafter.

Lo, the time cometh when the book is cast aside and the plow-handle inviteth the tender paw of the student to follow it over the fruitful valleys and fertile hills of "ole Kaintuck."

Yea, the wise Senior beginneth to look about over the land in anxious expectation. The biled shirt job cometh not so swiftly as he has been taught to believe. Verily, the oliveyard groweth beautiful, the vineyard flourisheth, and the world spinneth merrily on, even without the help of the sophisticated Senior. He droppeth a tear of disillusionment when he marketh the sceptical eye with which the world regardeth him. Fate appeareth unjust, and payeth little heed to the magnitude of his wisdom and understanding. The problem of the Math professor dwindleth to insignificance, when placed in comparison with the problem of the greatest of all professors—Life.

Even so, the chin of the Senior toucheth not his chest. He holdeth his head high, and looketh fearlessly into the eyes of his first difficulty—the conflict between Love and Ambition.

Love calleth softly: "O Weary One, come hither, and thou shalt find rest!" Ambition roareth with the voice of a lion: "Tarry thou not here, O Youth; Love furnisheth not the solution of Life's problems; there is no rest for the man who liveth in the modern world. Thou hast greater things to do than linger by the side of a love-lorn maiden!"

Thus, the first great struggle confronteth the man who leaveth College, and verily, verily, I say unto you, he meeteth it like a man. Selah!

—SOLOMON II.

DEAN SIMRALL NEW
HEAD OF S. C. W. A.

The May meeting of the Central Kentucky branch of the Southern College Woman's Association was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Frances Jewell. Dean Josephine Simrall, the new president, and other officers were installed.

It was decided to endorse the Smith-Towner bill and the plan for a federal bureau to look after the interests of women in industry. Papers, plays and pageants will be used in the study of Americanization, which will be discussed by the club next year.

A "Stunt Party" followed the program. As ventriloquists, Mrs. Thomas Cooper and Mrs. Edward Stanton Good won much applause.

Refreshments of tea and cakes were served by Miss Jewell, the hostess.

IMPOSSIBLE TO REACH MARS, SAYS DR. H. MEIR

Eminent Scientist Tells Academy Our Astronomical Hopes Are Vain

"Atmospheric, climatic and economic conditions on Mars decree that man, constituted as he is, could not exist there", said Dr. Henry Meir, scientist of Centre College in his address at the seventh annual meeting of the Kentucky Academy of Science held at the University of Kentucky May 8. Dr. Meir discussed some of the factors to be considered in attempting to communicate with the supposed inhabitants of Mars, explaining that it was an impossibility because of the unbridgable space and that there could be no exchange of thought for the reason that there could be no kinship of language and gesticulation. Sign-drawing could not enter the equation.

At the afternoon session, Dr. R. A. Millikan, one of the most prominent scientists of University of Chicago discussed with the Academy, "The Twentieth Century's Contribution to our Knowledge of the Atom", bringing out the fact that the atom is not indivisible but that Sir Oliver Lodge, a world famous scientist, predicts the use of atomic force within a few years.

Dr. Walter H. Coodidge, professor of chemistry at Centre College was elected president to succeed Dr. Paul P. Boyd. G. D. Smith, Richmond, was elected vice-president. Alfred M. Peter, Lexington was re-elected secretary and J. S. McHargue was re-elected treasurer. Twenty-four new members and eight corresponding members were admitted to the Academy.

An auditing committee, a resolutions committee and a nominating committee were appointed by the retiring president.

Dean Boyd addressed the Academy on "The Future of The Kentucky Academy" recommending that it be more closely correlated with business activities, that it organize state surveys, encourage better teaching of science in High Schools, organize local chapters, co-operate with national organizations and recommend good and influential legislation in Kentucky.

The Academy organized in 1914 with forty-six charter members for the purpose of unifying scientific interests in the State. At that time it had only five speakers while at present it has 134 members and twenty-four speakers. It represents thirty-five lines of activity, with chemistry in the lead with twenty-six members.

Papers on interesting and popular scientific subjects were read by W. S. Anderson, A. J. Olney, W. D. Valleau, C. A. Shull, Henry Meir, A. W. Homberger, W. R. Wilson, Miss Mary Didlake, Rev. E. L. Van Becelaere, G. D. Smith, John J. Tigert, H. Garman, E. S. Good, J. S. McHargue, D. J. Healy, J. J. Hooper, J. Holmes Martin, W. W. Dimock, S. D. Averitt, C. C. Kiplinger, G. C. Routt and G. D. Buckner.

STROLLER STAR TAKES PLACE AT CAMP TAYLOR

Leading Man of "Climbers" Accepts Position as Instructor of Elocution

Emery Frazier has left school and has gone to Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, as head instructor of Elocution in vocational work of the camp. In the department there is to be a maximum number of fifteen students and more may be added if he so desires, as he is to have complete control of the entire department.

At Camp Taylor the government has started departments of higher education for the men still in service, such as Law, Engineering, Agriculture and Elocution. Mr. Frazier has been placed as head instructor to take charge of the Department of Elocution.

This is a continuation of the work which he accomplished while in college, and the beginning of his future career in dramatics. A brilliant future is before him, and his many friends hope that he will continue playing the leading role in "The Climbers" towards success.

Hoover Day Observed In University Chapel

Friday was "Hoover Day" in chapel. Herbert Hoover being discussed by Professor A. M. Miller, chairman of the Hoover Club, and Doctor Tigert. Professor Miller explained the purpose of the Hoover Club, saying that "as Hoover Clubs are being organized in all sections of the country, it is only proper that we form one here, and help maintain sentiment for Hoover." More than 200 students at the University have signed the pledge for Hoover.

Doctor Tigert extolled the many virtues of Hoover, and told of his early life particularly of his early struggle for an education; he also told of Hoover's organizing ability in this country and in foreign countries.
